The following questions were discussed concerning proposed changes:

- How does TEA respond to the criticism that this is just a voucher system?
 - o It is for students in public school that will remain in public school. A way to provide support to combat regression with additive services.
- How does TEA respond to the criticism that parents who are unable or unwilling to apply essentially then create a larger pool of money going to the families who did apply, thus exacerbating inequity?
 - o It is a tool to help families to help their children. The funding does not go direct to families.
- Will this open up to all kids with an IEP?
 - o Only those in K-12
- Parents have expressed unwillingness because of the financial questions required in the application?
 - o
